Flagler Museum's Winter Exhibit

Masterfully Human: The Art of Gaugengigl

Ignaz Marcel Gaugengigl (Bavarian-American, 1855 - 1932), The Duel, ca. 1891, oil on wood panel. Garry Trudeau.

Palm Beach, FL - Nostalgic images of a refined past will be on display at the Flagler Museum this winter from January 23 - April 29, 2018. Masterfully Human surveys the work of Boston School painter and printmaker Ignaz Marcel Gaugengigl (1855-1932). This is the first museum exhibition devoted to this Gilded Age artist. Gaugengigl's intimate and evocative depictions of everyday life, often set in revolutionary-era France, convey timeless themes such as honor, friendship, love, and beauty. In addition to his popular genre subjects, the exhibition will present Gaugengigl's work in landscape, portraiture, illustration, and design.

Organized by the Flagler Museum, Masterfully Human will include 75 works on loan from major private and public collections from across the United States. An illustrated catalogue will accompany the exhibition. Guided exhibition tours will be offered Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. beginning January 31.
