$18 for Adults

$15 for Children

Free for Adult Members and their children or grandchildren, Sustaining level and higher

Free for Adult Members, Individual and Family level (Children or grandchildren require a ticket)

Children are invited to hunt for treat-filled Easter eggs on the Museum’s lawn and in the Cocoanut Grove on Saturday, April 11th. The Museum’s grounds will be sectioned off into age-appropriate areas so that everyone, including toddlers, will have the opportunity to participate safely. Museum gates open at 9:00 a.m. Bring your cameras to snap a photo with the Easter Bunny, plus children will be able to participate in craft projects and games until the Easter Egg Hunt starts at 10:00 a.m. Children are encouraged to bring their own Easter basket. Each child will receive a commemorative wooden Easter egg to remember the day.

The Easter Egg Hunt is sponsored in part by the Palm Beach Daily News. Families are welcome to stay after the hunt to explore Whitehall, the Flagler Kenan Pavilion and Railcar No. 91.

• RAILCAR NO. 91

Families won’t want to miss visiting Henry Flagler’s private Railcar No. 91, which was built in 1886 and was described by a newspaper at the time as “A Palace on Wheels.” Flagler, the visionary businessman behind Standard Oil and the Florida East Coast Railway, famously traveled on this railcar in 1912 along the Over-Sea Railroad to Key West. Climb aboard No. 91 and see the fully restored living areas, bathrooms and kitchen. Check out the Over-Sea Railroad map and see where the tracks carried both people and goods around the state at the turn of the 20th century. Railcar No. 91 is located in the breathtaking Flagler Kenan Pavilion, which was built in the style of a 19th century railway palace.

Adjacent to the Pavilion, families can find shade along the waterfront in the Cocoanut Grove, which represents how Palm Beach might have looked when the first settlers came to the island situated between Lake Worth and the Atlantic Ocean. Additional information about Flagler’s railroads, including historical photos from Key West, can be found in the History Room on the second floor of Whitehall.

- $30 for Members
- $50 for Non-members
- $20 for Children ages 12 and under
- Includes Museum admission and tax
- Advance purchase required
- Prix-fixe menu does not accommodate changes or substitutions

The celebration of Mother’s Day in the United States began during the Gilded Age, when in May 1914, Congress established it as a National Holiday. In the spirit of this tradition, the Flagler Museum invites all mothers and their families to enjoy an elegant Mother’s Day Tea at the Café des Beaux-Arts. Each mother will receive a special gift, and all guests will enjoy a selection of gourmet tea sandwiches, traditional scones, and sweets complemented by the Museum’s own Whitehall Special Blend™ tea and served on Whitehall Collection™ china. The Café des Beaux-Arts is located in the beautiful Flagler Kenan Pavilion. Designed in the style of a 19th century Beaux-Arts railway palace, the Pavilion provides guests with spectacular panoramic views of the West Palm Beach skyline across Lake Worth.

Programming at the Flagler Museum is sponsored in part by Palm Beach County Board of County Commissioners, the Tourist Development Council, the Cultural Council of Palm Beach County, and the State of Florida, Department of State, Division of Cultural Affairs and the Florida Council on Arts and Culture.

The Henry Morrison Flagler Museum

When it was completed in 1902, Whitehall, Henry Flagler’s Gilded Age estate in Palm Beach, was hailed by the New York Herald as “more wonderful than any palace in Europe, grander and more magnificent than any other private dwelling in the world.” Today, Whitehall is a National Historic Landmark and is open to the public as the Flagler Museum, featuring guided tours, changing exhibits, and special programs. The Museum is located at One Whitehall Way, Palm Beach, FL 33480.
